DUBLIN NOW IN FLAMES

IRISH UPRISING
SPREADING OUT
OF DUBLIN CITY

Rebels Are Driven Out of St. Stephen's Green Suffering Heavy Losses.

STREET FIGHTING STILL ON

Casualty List is Reported as Already Exceeding One Hundred in Dublin.

LONDON, April 29.—(By Associated Press.)—Parts of the city of Dublin are in flames, an Evening News Despatch, filed at Belfast last night says.

Street fighting continues and there is much looting, but the re-enforced military is making steady progress. Most of the shops are closed.

LONDON, April 29.—(By Associated Press.)—From inquiries made among the military authorities at Dublin the correspondent of the Evening Star concludes that there are probably not more than 1,500 or 2,000 men and lads actually engaged in the rebellion so far as the central part of Dublin is concerned. Among them are quite a number of old men who were closely associated with the Fenian troubles and some youths of 16 or 17. This is shown, the correspondent says, by the appearance of the prisoners already brought in.

One despatch received from Ireland this afternoon says that Sackville and Grafton street in Dublin are in flames and that artillery is being used on the houses, the inhabitants having been removed.

LONDON, April 29.—(By Associated Press.)—Although the story of the early hours of the Dublin uprising has now been disclosed in considerable detail, England is still without authentic information as to the progress of later events. Normal telephone, telegraph and mail service with Ireland have not been resumed and the existing means of communication are subject to such strict censorship that it is impossible to obtain only fragmentary information. Such news despatches as came through this morning added little to the information contained in last night's official advice and stories of eye witnesses.

So far as official reports show the situation in Dublin is gradually being brought under control. The most important recent news that the rebels had been driven out of St. Stephen's Green with bombs sustaining heavy losses in killed, wounded and prisoners has not been confirmed officially. There seems to be no doubt, however, that the rebels still control various parts of Dublin and that street fighting continues with a lengthening list of casualties. It is reported the casualty list already exceeds 100.

Of the situation outside Dublin little is known beyond the official admission that the disaffection has spread to various localities in the west and south of Ireland. Field Marshal French's statement of last night described these disturbances as local in character and so far as has been revealed by information, which has passed the censorship, they have not been attended by heavy fighting.

REBELS STILL HOLD CAPITAL OF IRELAND

DUBLIN, April 29.—(By Associated Press.)—Fifteen hundred or so armed men of the Sinn Féin had a hold on Ireland's capital today. After four days of fighting their rebel flag still flew from a number of central points.

Since Monday some of the chief positions in the city have been in the hands of the rebels. In defending these strongholds against rebel troops and Irish Nationalists volunteers the rebels are fighting with desperation for their lives, which they know may be forfeited on account of treason.

Regulars now command all the rebel positions, the fall of which is merely a question of time.

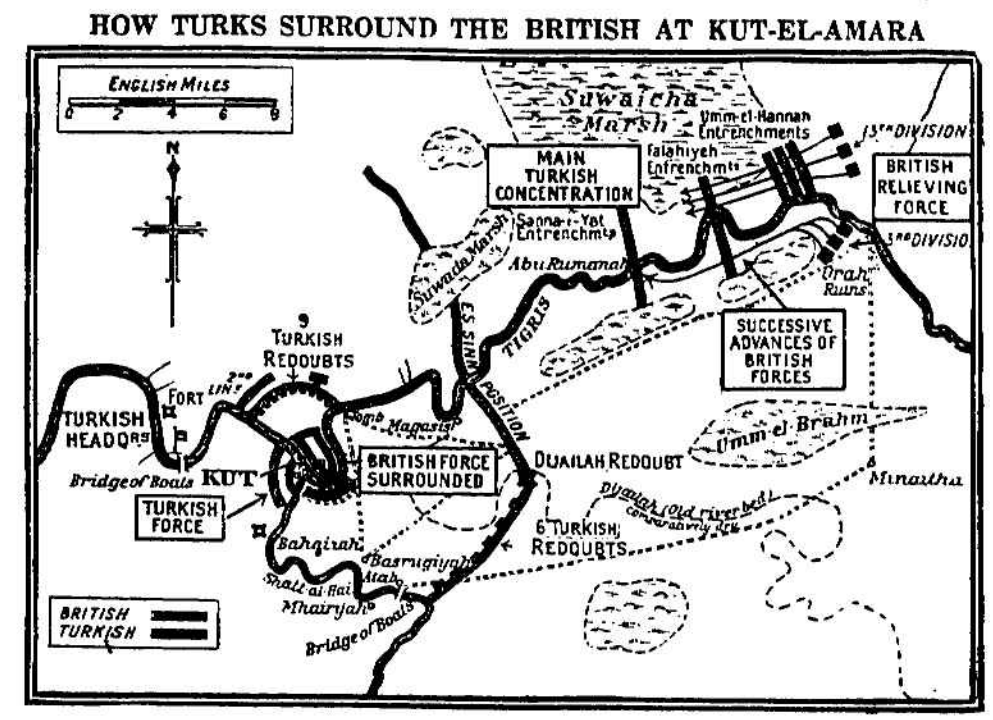

When the Associated Press correspondent landed early this morning at the quay, the plinking of bullets from rifles of snipers in the vicinity

STRIKE IS BEGUN

Strikers Remain off the Streets Which Are Patrolled by Detectives.

PITTSBURGH, April 29.—(By Associated Press.)—The villages of the Turtle Creek valley, where approximately 20,000 workmen are on strike to enforce their demands for an eight-hour day, were uniformly quiet, when the pickets took their places at shop entrances today. Strikers generally remained off the streets but railroad detectives and deputy sheriffs patrolled their beats.

An effort to settle the strike was to be made at noon when representatives of the state bureau of mediation and conciliation with represent-

GERMANS ARE LEAVING

Heavy Batteries Are Being Sent to a Distant Point Where There Are British.

PARIS, April 29.—(By Associated Press.)—The battle of Verdun may now be considered as ended according to the opinion prevailing in French military circles. Not only the recent French official report, but yesterday's German report stated that nothing important had developed in the Verdun region. It is nearly two months since the German war office has made such a statement.

Heavy German batteries in considerable number have been withdrawn from before Verdun and sent to a distant point, which, judging from the increasing activity there, probably is the portion of the line held by the British.
